From the President

Dear PACIM Members!
Witam Wszystkich Serdecznie!

It was wonderful seeing all of you at the PACIM Picnic in August! We enjoyed delicious food prepared by our chefs Adam Ramczyk and Iwona Srienc, and Polish accordion music played by Teresa Kreslo. This joyous event would not be possible without hard work of PACIM Board members and volunteers: Alan and Sherry Rybak, Ela Iwańczuk, Donna Sisler, Daniel and Mateusz Kukla. Thank you! If you're considering volunteering at the Soup Festival on November 6th or Wigilia on December 11th, please email office@pacim.org.

It is our great pleasure to inform you that the playground in Skorogoszcz Dom Dziecka was completed in July! PACIM used $14,000 from Donna Walicki Fund as well as the proceeds from the 2021 Wigilia to sponsor the playground for Polish orphan children. We also want to share with you a letter PACIM received from Starosta Powiatu Brzeskiego (Brzeg County Executive).

Since the end of the pandemic (is it official yet?) PACIM has been very busy with other activities such as: Polish language classes, Polish American Library, open on Saturdays 9am-11am, and our clubs for those who would like to further develop their Polish passions. Please check the website www.pacim.org for more information. During early fall each year PACIM reviews scholarship applications from Minnesotan students of Polish origin. This year we awarded 5 Polanie and 2 Rog scholarships to talented young people. You can read more about the awardees on page 11.

In this issue we focus on the philanthropic foundation established by Stan and Marie Wasie. PACIM recently received archives and a desk of the founder Stanley L Wasie (see the picture below), who rose from impoverished childhood as a Polish immigrant to trucking industry pioneer. His family's good fortune was shared with others through scholarships, sponsorship of development of treatments of many diseases, and support of the Catholic Church in Poland during the Cold War. We also feature a 1974 handwritten letter to Marie Wasie after Stan's death, from Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński, Primate of Poland. Wyszyński writes: "Furthermore, allow me to express my deepest thanks for your most generous gift to be used for the building and reconstruction of churches and chapels throughout Poland. It came at a most opportune time, since at last we have received permission from the government to build new churches and repair others which were destroyed during the war. No such permission has been granted to us since 1957."

Last but not least, please mark your calendar for PACIM Elections on Sunday, November 20th.

See you at Soup Festival!

Founders of the Wasie Foundation

Letter to Marie Wasie from Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński, Primate of Poland, after the death of her husband and son in 1974.

My Dear Friend:

I deeply regret my early departure from the breakfast table on the day of your visit. I apologize for not staying longer. The reasons which prompted me to do so were urgent and twofold.

First, every session of the Synod begins very promptly at 9:00 AM. Secondly, on that particular day, the session began with my speech. I am sure you will understand.

I have just read your letter from beginning to end and thank you for the same.

I take this opportunity to express my sentiments of sincerest Sympathy to you at the departure, in such a short period of time, of your beloved husband and your darling son. I want to assure you that I will prayerfully commend the souls of both to our Merciful Father.

Furthermore, allow me to express my deepest thanks for your most generous gift to be used for the building and reconstruction of churches and chapels throughout Poland. It came at a most opportune time, since at last we have received permission from the government to build new churches and repair others which were destroyed during the war. No such permission had been granted us since 1957. You can readily understand that on that account our needs are countless and various. As a matter of fact about 30 churches are today in the process of construction.

The assistance granted through The Stan Don Mar Foundation will enable us to proceed at a more rapid pace. I will try to distribute this aid as fairly and justly as possible.

I want to inform you, my dear Friend, that the clergy serving God in the churches erected by your offering, will be obligated to celebrate Mass for the repose of the souls of Stanley and Donald and also for your continued strength, consolation and resignation to God's will.

Divine Providence mysteriously guides and directs the saddened hearts of His children. It was so edifying and inspiring to me to behold how your bitter and sorrowful experiences were borne in a spirit of profound faith and peace, and then turned to acts of charity for the needy.

It was for me a source of great joy to meet you once more, this time in the Chapel of the Polish Institute in Rome, participating in the Mass which I celebrated, and satisfying your spiritual hunger at the Eucharistic Banquet.

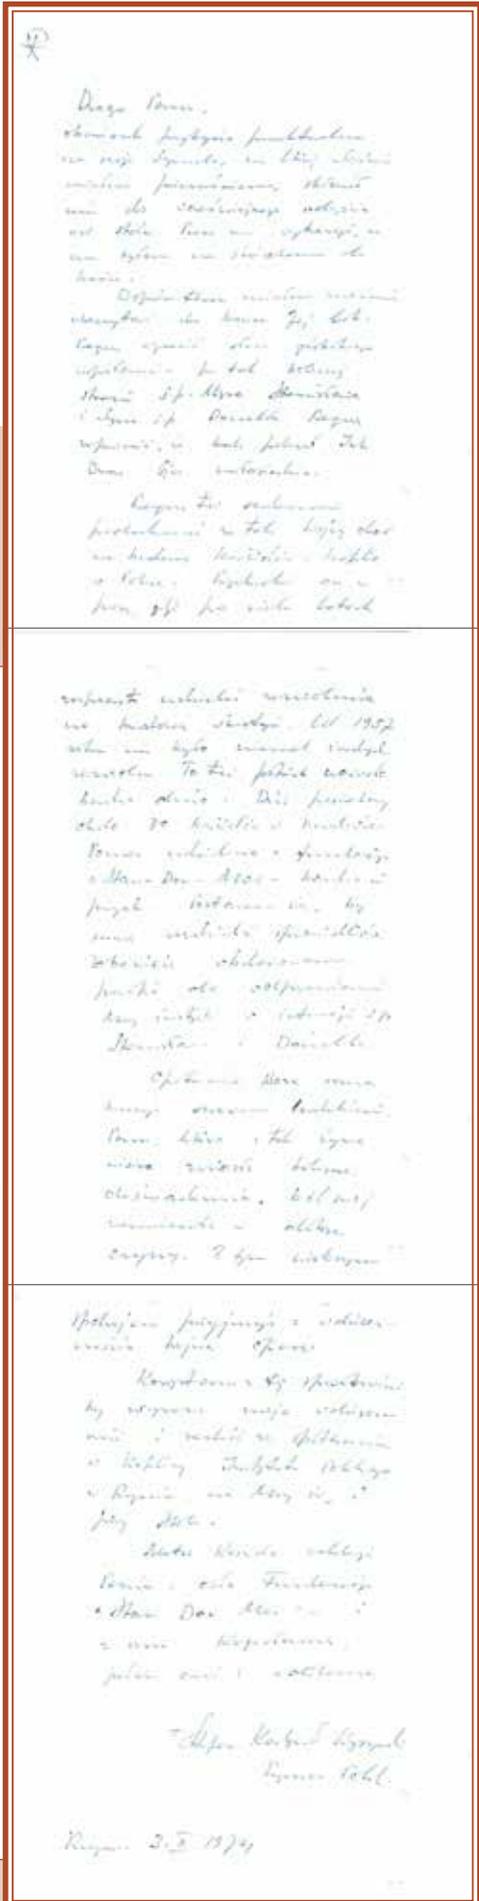

I entrust you, dear Friend, and The Stan Don Mar Foundation to the protective care of Mary, the Mother of the Church and extend my blessings to all.

With highest esteem, devotion and gratitude, I remain,

Vary sincerely,

Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński
Primate of Poland

The Wasie Foundation Scholarship Programs for Students from Poland

In the fall of 2002, the Wasie Foundation got involved in providing scholarships not only to American students of Polish origin but also to students born and living in Poland and interested in continuing their education in the USA.

The first native Polish recipient of the Wasie scholarship was Aneta Toporowska (now Lennartson). While she was a student of Wyższa Szkoła Biznesu National-Louis University (business school) in Nowy Sącz, Poland, she was chosen to participate in an international business internship program through the Rotary Club in Duluth, MN. Upon completing the internship, she was approached by the College of St. Scholastica's International Director, who informed her about the possibility of studying at St. Scholastica on a Wasie Foundation scholarship and encouraged her to apply. Subsequently, she did. On Wasie scholarships, she earned an M.A. from St. Scholastica and a J.D. from Hamline University School of Law. She also helped other talented students from Poland to follow the same path and fulfill their dream of studying in the US. This marked the beginning of the pilot project between the Wasie Foundation and National-Louis University, which benefited many Polish students.

The Wasie Foundation joined forces with the Gostomski Foundation of Winona, MN, to fund a full scholarship for students from Poland to study at St. Mary's University in Winona, MN. The scholarship covered tuition, room and board, and other student expenses. The Wasie Foundation continued to support students in their graduate studies, creating a unique opportunity for talented young Poles to receive a high-quality education. Upon graduation, some students stayed in the US and started successful careers; others returned to Poland or moved to other countries.

Student Testimonials

Aga

My then-boyfriend asked me if I would go with him to America if he was awarded a scholarship founded by the Gostomski and Wasie Foundations to study at St. Mary's University in Winona, MN. I said "yes" being sure his chances of getting it were rather slim due to the highly competitive process of getting it. But he received it. So, fulfilling my promise to him, in the following year, I applied for the same scholarship, and I received it too. Once I graduated from St. Mary's with a double degree in marketing and sociology and a minor in statistics, The Wasie Foundation offered me a full scholarship to continue my studies to get an MBA, which I did at St. Mary's University, Minneapolis campus. It was a great opportunity for me to continue my education without dealing with the financial burdens of it.

Marketing, however, has not become my profession—I switched to Information Technology and continue to work in this field. Currently, I'm the Senior IT Director at Apogee Enterprises, Inc., an industry leader in architectural products and services. It is our glass that you can see at the Vikings stadium and many other places.

Kinga

The Wasie scholarship has been a turning point in my life opening new opportunities. It has taken my understanding of what's possible to a global level. The scholarship has empowered me to study at NLU in Chicago and built a platform for a truly international career. Following college, I started an internship in London followed by a secondment in New York, projects in Dubai and eventually a return to Warsaw where I first worked with 26 markets in Europe and the Middle East and recently assumed a role of a marketing director, CMO at a leading payments solutions provider. If it wasn't for the Wasie scholarship, I don't think I would have had such a rich professional experience at the age of 34 years. I am immensely grateful.

All of this was possible because of that very first step—the ability to come to the United States to study art. Without the Wasie Foundation none of this would be possible. So thank you for unleashing my potential!

In late August of 2004 I landed in Minneapolis. It was my first visit to the United States and the first flight taken alone. I still remember that flight in detail: the people I spoke to and what they were saying to me. But more importantly it was a flight full of emotions: excitement, thrill and a feeling that my life just started and it will be full of adventures. I came to the United States as I was a recipient of the Wasie Foundation Scholarship which allowed me to study art at the College of St. Catherine. The scholarship covered all the costs for the entire program. This tremendous opportunity given to me by the Wasie Foundation never went to waste. I worked very hard throughout my time at St. Kate's grabbing any opportunity that I could: putting my artwork in exhibitions, building art installations on campus, working internships in architectural offices and being in the Honors program. All of that hard work paid off as right after completing my degree I got into Harvard to study architecture. And when I finished my Master's degree I had a chance to work in New York designing skyscrapers, I went to Kenya to work for the United Nations, I taught at UCLA in the architecture program and then I worked for Google as Head of Innovation. Today I'm an assistant professor at Ohio State University where I work on experimental methods in architecture—combining new and emerging technologies to build a brighter future for us all and educating young leaders. I couldn't be happier with my journey as it was, as I suspected on that very first flight, full of adventures.

All of this was possible because of that very first step—the ability to come to the United States to study art. Without the Wasie Foundation none of this would be possible. So thank you for unleashing my potential!

During my freshman year at the University of Economics in Wroclaw, I was awarded a full scholarship founded by the Gostomski and Wasie foundations to Saint Mary's University in Minnesota.

After graduating from Saint Mary's in 2009 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Accounting and minors in Mathematics and Economics, I then graduated from the University of Saint Thomas in 2010 with a Master of Science in Accounting.

I am a CPA, and I started my career at KPMG, one of the Big Four accounting firms. As an Audit Manager, I served companies ranging in size from small to Fortune 500 entities with a global presence. I have spent the last 6 years working in various roles at Medtronic. Currently, I am a Finance Director (Pain Interventions).

Maybe you don't have the financial resources of Stanley L. Wasie or Michael M. Gostomski, but you can still help us to continue their work, funding scholarships for students by donating money to PACIM scholarship funds. PACIM awards scholarships to students who have Polish heritage, and take an interest in the culture and traditions.

Education is one of the best ways to advance economically and socially in American society. Even if Polish Americans, through the hard work of several generations, are, in general, no longer in a disadvantaged position compared to other ethnic groups, the costs of higher education create hardships for many working and middle-class families and limit opportunities for the advancement of many talented young people. There is also a steady demand for assistance to students from Poland wanting to continue their education as international students in the USA.

Every year we receive more qualified applications for scholarships and grants from Polanie Legacy and Rog Endowment funds than we can award. We are also aware that the ones we award cover only a small fraction of the costs of higher education. For these reasons, we would like to expand the scholarship funds and, therefore, encourage you to donate.

All money donated to the scholarship fund is used exclusively for that purpose. PACIM keeps scholarship money in investment accounts separate from operating accounts and uses a transparent and public process to award the scholarships.

Feel free to contact us if you want to know more about PACIM scholarships and contributing money to the PACIM scholarship funds. We would also like to hear your ideas on how to raise money for PACIM scholarship through other fundraising initiatives.

Young refugee woman's story

- PART II

Swietlana (not her real name), her sister and their two young children arrived in Warsaw in March 2022. We featured the story about her experiences as a young refugee woman in the summer issue of Polam. After 7 months of living alone with her daughter in Poland, she is longing to return home, to be with her family. Although her husband was injured and was hospitalized in May, he had to return to the front line to defend his country. I keep in touch with her and check in on a regular basis. She recently wrote this letter for PolAm.

“On the 24th of February a cruel, bloodthirsty dictator decided to attack Ukraine, to kill or imprison our defenders, our patriots, a lot of civilians and to destroy Ukrainians as a nation by turning all those who would survive into submissive slaves.

Yes, Putin’s real purpose of the war is to make Ukrainians disappear as a nation by killing us, by kidnapping our people and moving them to remote areas of Russia, by forbidding us to speak Ukrainian language. He has not invented anything new, he is just continuing Kremlin’s policies of the last 400 or 500 years, policies to destroy Ukrainian statehood. Centuries ago, our brave freedom-loving predecessors, Cossacks, and plowmen fought together when the cruel Moscow army attacked us. But we have always wanted to live in a democratic society of independent Ukraine.

Realizing that the fate of the nation is at a stake, our men and women didn’t have any other choice but to fight and to defend our one and only motherland. We couldn’t let our country and our nation disappear. The war united us. Since the first day, hundreds of people stood in lines to join the territorial defense, hundreds of people became volunteers. Ukrainian men came back from abroad to defend their motherland. Even rich and well-known people, businessmen, singers, actors and dancers went to the front lines and risked their lives as soldiers, volunteers, and paramedics. The world’s politicians and even our own authorities didn’t expect us to be so united, so brave, so fearless and persistent

Today, in the twenty-first century, Russians are not at all free in their country. They don’t know what freedom of speech is, as they are prohibited from having a point of view that is different from the rulers. They are afraid to be imprisoned.

A large portion of Russians is extremely poor, humiliated by their authorities, which makes them envious and very cruel. The purpose of Russian soldiers in this “Special Operation” is to get a higher salary and to steal things they consider valuable from Ukrainian houses. They are fighting and dying for the money they were promised.

But we, Ukrainians, are different. Our men and women are fighting for the most valuable and treasured things they have—their families, their Motherland, their freedom, and the right to be independent. We are fighting for the right to be Ukrainians in Ukraine. And that is why we will win!”

“I’m proud to be a Ukrainian!”

2022 ROG SCHOLARSHIP AWARDEES:

Alena Wadzinske

Hello, my name is Alena Wadzinske. I practice and demonstrate Pisanki, a Polish cultural folk art that I learned from my Babcia, a master pisanki artist, who was born in Barglow, Poland. I have been practicing Pisanki for about 16 years. Pisanki involves creating beeswax designs by writing, or pismo, on an egg using a drop-and-drag, wax resist method. Traditionally, Pisanki were created on Good Friday to be blessed in the Świąconka on Holy Saturday and eaten on Easter Sunday. I am a regular cultural folk art demonstrator at the Portage County Folk Fair in Stevens Point and Polishfest, Milwaukee. I am grateful to the PACIM Rog Endowment Grant for its support of my practice and demonstration of Pisanki, allowing me to update my art post-COVID, to travel to cultural events, and to share the art with those interested.

Julia Weir

I am so grateful to be a recipient of the 2022 PACIM Rog Endowment Grant! With the funds from this grant, I plan to travel to Germany and Poland to do research for my upcoming biographical book, The War Dancer, a historical novel about the life of my grandmother, Zofia Brzozowska, and her experience in Poland as a prisoner of Nazi forced labor arrangements during World War II. Through the support of PACIM, I hope to retrace my grandmother's steps from her childhood in Suwałki, Poland to the final concentration camp where she was held, in Ravensbrück, Germany. I do all this in hopes of achieving my dream to transcribe her experience into a book and to share her moving story with the world. Thank you again to PACIM and its Scholarship Committee for entrusting me with this grant and for supporting young people who hope to share the richness of Polish heritage and history with others!
